

The Impact of CHI Center of Excellence Designation

Dr Sameera Auckburally, Clinical Fellow in Congenital Hyperinsulinism, Royal Manchester Children's Hospital

Zoe Yung, Advanced Nurse Practitioner, Alder Hey Children's Hospital

Recognition of Expertise and Resources

- Dedicated multidisciplinary team providing high standard of coordinated care

- Medical information web portal and website

- Access to advanced diagnostics and therapies

Strive for continued improvement

- Quality improvement projects and research studies

Nurse-led telephone triage

Clinical Trials

Multiple Investigator
led studies

CGM &
myCHI app

Genetics
studies
(Exeter)

- Capillary insulin microsampling
- Qualitative study on feeding issues
- Ketone generation at hypoglycaemia
- Neonatal hypoglycaemia outcomes

Perspectives on Designation

“It is a privilege to be a CHI Centre of Excellence, showcasing the highest standards of patient care delivered by a multidisciplinary team driven by cutting edge research and innovation.”

Sarah Worthington, CHI specialist nurse, Royal Manchester Children’s Hospital
“We sincerely thank CHI for their hard work in recognising the centres of excellence (CoE) which provides a great reassurance for the families.”

Dr Senthil Senniappan, Clinical Director for Endocrinology & Associate Professor, Alder Hey Hospital
“Being awarded a CHI Centre of Excellence is a great honour; it is important we strive for continued improvement and excellence.”

See Alder Hey before you visit!
Check out Europe’s largest 360° hospital virtual map designed specifically for children and families
Professor Indi Banerjee, Consultant Endocrinologist, Royal Manchester Children’s Hospital
Go to virtual map